Radio Stars at Joyland Park Today

DON BECKER

"OKLAHOMA BOB" ALBRIGHT AND EV GLADSTONE

JACK AND JILL

A seven-star artists program will be offered at Joyland Park Casino Sunday, with the appearance here of headline radio performers from radio station WLW at Cincinnati.

Radio artists who will make personal appearances at the Casino will be: Bob Albright, former RKO headliner; Don Becker, "The Paderewski of the Ukulele"; Morrie Newman, "Romantic Baritone" and star of the "Crosley Follies"; Larry Greuter, accordionist; "Jack and Jill," former NBC and RKO radio stars, and Ev Gladstone, accompanist for Bob Albright.

The radio teams were secured for the appearance at Joyland Park by Sonny MacDonald, manager of the new German Village at the Park. MacDonald, former State-Publix manager in Lexington, brought several of the stars here recently for a charity show at a local theater.

There will be two performances, one at 4 p. m. this afternoon and one at 9:30 p. m. tonight.

The park management has announced that there will be no reserved seats in connection with the radio stars performances.— Adv.

To the Voters Of the First Magisterial District:

I solicit your support for the Democratic nomination for Magistrate of your district, subject to the primary Saturday, August 5.

I have lived all my life on the Redd road, in the new First District, and have been a practical farmer. I have the best interests of the people of the district at heart, and can be relied upon to represent their best interests if I am elected to this office. I have always been a Democrat, and stand for everything that the Democratic party stands for. I have never sought office before.

Voters of the First District can count upon me to furnish them efficient and economical government.

I favor the reduction of taxes to the lowest possible figure necessary to operate the county government as it should be operated. I oppose all extravagances, and will use my influence against all and any use of the people's money unnecessarily. Therefore, I shall oppose daily meetings of the Fiscal Court, and will favor Court meetings only so often as is necessary to transact the county's business.

If you stand for what I stand for; if you believe that what I propose to do will help you through a lightened tax burden, I respectfully solicit your support in my candidacy. If I am elected, you can count upon me not to forget the promises I am making to you.

Respectfully submitted,

Frank H. Stone

NOTICE

Bids will be received for the rent of one and one half to two ton trucks without drivers to be used at the Emergency Conservation Forest Camps in the State.

Bids will be considered either by mileage, day or month:

(a) With all cost of operation including repairs borne by the forestry agency; provided that when breakage or wear occurs which the forestry agency concerned considers too great to permit economic repair, the agreement of hire may be terminated and the truck released to the owner; provided further that the forestry agency concerned assumes no liability for accidental loss or damage to the truck; and provided further that the owner is not required to assume liability for injury to persons or property while the truck is being operated by a driver furnished by one of the forestry agencies.

(b) With the owner meeting all cost of operation including all repairs and liability for accidental loss or damage to the truck, but providing that needed repairs which the owner is not in a position to make immediately may be made by the forestry agency concerned at the owner's expense; the owner not to be required to assume liability for injury to persons or property while the truck is being operated by the driver furnished by a forestry agency.

Any and all bids refusable. Bids to be received at my office in Frankfort by June 1st.

SPIRIT OF CARNIVAL MARKS FAIR OPENING

Arcturus was a faint hum, then a louder drone.

The current supplied by the far-off star turned the master switch, and a huge searchlight made a circuit of the main exhibition halls like a magic wand, playing on other photo-electric cells. Each building was lighted.

Dr. Edwin Brant Frost, director emeritus of Yerkes and who conceived the idea of a cosmic touch for the exposition inaugural, acted as master of ceremonies.

Despite threats of clouds, he said impulses came from each of the observatories on schedule.

Cloudy weather in the east, however, presumably left to the clear weather stations at Champaign, Ill., and Williams Bay, Wis., the duty of catching the genuine Arcturan rays. Artificial ones were to be sent from other stations in case conditions were adverse.

Rufus C. Dawes, president of the fair, said the act was fitting for an exposition that had as its theme man's achievements, especially in the scientific field. Dawes, with Postmaster General James A. Farley, was one of the speakers at the noontime dedicatory ceremonies.

Solemnity and the spirit of carnival marked the opening day. Crowds surged through the turnstiles like water through a broken dike. They began coming in at 9 o'clock in the morning, many of them after vigils that began last night.

Inside the grounds, the throngs split, thousands going into mammoth Soldier field for the dedicatory exercises; other thousands swarming into the exhibition halls of blue, yellow, green and white.

Postmaster General James A. Farley, President Roosevelt's representative, signed a proclamation officially bringing the exposition to life.

FREE COOKING SCHOOL WILL OPEN ON JUNE 1

Miss Chambers will devote special attention to this phase of cookery.

The preparation of the less demanded cuts of meat will be a topic on the program, a subject of special interest to those who must watch the food budget closely. Methods will be demonstrated as well as described, one advantage of the cooking school. It is so much easier to understand and remember a lesson which is acted out before your eyes.

"Feeding the Family Easily" is the title Miss Chambers has given to one day of her cooking school. Two complete meals will be planned and prepared before the audience.

The Herald's Free Cooking School will be held on June 1, 2, and 3 at 10 a. m., daily at the Ben Ali theater. Every woman in Lexington is invited to attend the sessions. There will be free baskets and gifts for those who attend.

AIR CIRCUS WILL BE HELD HERE TODAY

Frick, of Chattanooga; Earl Smith, former airmail pilot, and Jack Cochran, of Middlesboro, will attempt to add more thrills to the program of events.

At 4 o'clock a four plane race is scheduled to be conducted between Musgrove, Toth, Frick and Smith. The race will be a six-lap affair, with the finish line of each lap directly in front of the crowd.

A special feature of the program will be staged at 4:30 o'clock when Jack Cochran will take Ezekial Sullivan, 96-year-old Berea resident, for his first airplane ride. The plane in which Mr. Sullivan will ride is the fastest with the circus.

From 4:30 until 5:30 o'clock the planes will be engaged in taking up passengers, except at various intervals when the pilots will take the air for brief stunting exhibitions to keep the crowd interested.

The highlight of the afternoon will be staged at 5:30 o'clock when Irvin Davis will go aloft 10,000 feet and make his sensational delayed flour jump from a plane speeding more than 150 miles per hour. He will fall headlong for more than a mile with flour streaming behind him as though he were on fire, and will land, with the aid of his parachute, directly in front of the crowd.

Members of the Junior League will be in charge of the field, and it is expected that the largest crowd ever to witness a performance of this kind in Central Kentucky will be on hand this afternoon.

State Retail Merchants' President Is Requested by Governor to Serve On Reorganization Advisory Board

[Special to The Herald]

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 27.—Gov. Ruby Laffoon today invited C. H. Parsons, of Ashland, president of the Kentucky Retail Merchants Association, to serve on the advisory committee named by the chief executive to devise a program looking to a reorganization of the state government.

Although Mr. Parsons has not accepted the appointment, the governor said he had assurances that he would serve as a member of the committee.

In extending the invitation Governor Laffoon told Mr. Parsons that it was his intention to enlarge the committee after the initial meeting, and according to the chief executive, this meeting will be held some time after the first of June.

The governor said he not only desired a member of the Retail Merchants Association on the committee, but one who represents the school interests of the state.

Members heretofore named, he said, are familiar with the needs of Kentucky and have well-developed opinions as to the reorganization of the state government.

In his letter to Mr. Parsons the governor reiterated his desire to exempt real estate and personal property from taxation for state purposes, saying "this is a pledge that was made to the people in the platform upon which I was elected."

"As you are the representative of the merchants of the state," said the governor's letter "I am now requesting you to serve as a member of this committee, and want to urge upon you to accept this opportunity of rendering a real service for Kentucky. May I urge upon you the acceptance of this appointment and assure you that it would be exceedingly pleasing to me for you to be one of this committee."

WHEAT PRICES SURGE UPWARD AT CHICAGO

more favorable for completion of planting. Some few showers were forecast for over the week-end, but long distance forecast indicates good weather for next week. This market probably will be governed by interpretation of the moves at Washington rather than on the actual situation prevailing.

OATS AND RYE: These markets shared in the activity of other grains and prices were higher. The country continues to offer cash oats more freely, but there is very little rye moving. Weather conditions are favorable for the new crop.

PROVISIONS: Market active and higher, with a broad commission house demand, while profit-taking and hedge sales checked the advance. Hogs were steady to 5 cents higher, with receipts 12,000.

CHICAGO GRAIN LETTER

(Furnished by W. E. Hutton & Co.)

CHICAGO, May 27.—WHEAT: Wheat gave a demonstration of its inherent strength today when it opened from 2¾ to 4 cents higher, and while not maintaining its bulge due to heavy profit-taking and selling against both daily and weekly offers, it nevertheless gave an excellent account of itself during the balance of the short session. The introduction of resolutions in both houses of congress to eliminate the gold redemption clause was the dominant factor. We look for higher prices and advise taking advantage of any setbacks to buy July wheat or corn.

CORN: Corn was stimulated by the identical considerations that bulled wheat, namely, a revival of the inflation issue which overshadowed every other consideration.
