COURSE READY FOR ATTENDANCE MEN

Topics for Discussion During Two Weeks' Session Announced

Preparations were complete last night for the opening today at the University of Kentucky of the school for attendance officers organized by the State Department of Public Instruction in cooperation with the University and Lake Division of the American Red Cross.

Registrations for the school began Friday. More than 250 county school superintendents and attendance officers will attend the school.

Dr. Clare Brown Cornell, of the Lake Division, American Red Cross, and W. C. Hunt will deliver lectures before the school today.

The officers of instruction are Dr. Frank L. McVey, of the University; Dr. Cornell, of the Red Cross, and State Superintendent of Public Instruction George Colvin.

The purpose of the school is to study Kentucky's school attendance problems and to fully acquaint attendance officers and county superintendents with the various phases of the enforcement of the attendance law passed by the last legislature, now effective.

Topics for discussion during the session are:

Status of compulsory attendance in the United States.

School legislation in Kentucky.

Child Labor Laws—national and state.

The meaning of the compulsory attendance law and methods for enforcing it.

The function and scope of the attendance officer.

Cooperation between attendance officer, teachers, county superintendent and county board of education.

Relation of attendance officer to other county and state officers and officials.

Methods of cooperation with local agencies.

Truancy: Causes and cures.

Value of social service training in enforcing school attendance.

Relation of school attendance to public health.

Relation of school attendance to farm ownership.

School attendance and citizenship.

The attendance officer a medium between home and school.

Medical inspection and school sanitation.

The value of community organization in school attendance.

Economic aspects of non-attendance.

Rural recreation.

Good roads, transportation, and consolidation.

Problems of juvenile delinquency. The attendance officer a probation officer.

Dependency. Methods of caring for the feeble minded, insane and epileptics.

The attendance officer a public welfare agent.

Method of treatment for first offenders.

Kentucky problems. Suggestions for solving them.

Preliminary organization and office set-up.

Reports, statistics, records and files.

PARIS YOUTH ARRESTED

Charged With Giving Covington Merchant Cold Check

[Special to The Herald]

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 1.—On complaint of Covington, Ky., authorities, Roy H. Wetherall, 22 years old, who says he is the son of a wealthy Paris, Ky., man, was arrested by Cincinnati detectives today at a hotel near the Grand Central Depot. It is charged that Wetherall purchased a suit of clothes for $150 in Covington and gave a check in payment. The check was worthless, the police say.

Wetherall was with his bride when arrested. The police say they notified his father by long distance telephone and that the father refused to take part in the affair.

"I AM HAPPIEST WOMAN IN TOWN"

This Is What Mrs. Phillips Says Since Tanlac Restored Her Health

"I firmly believe Tanlac has saved my life," was the emphatic statement of Mrs. Nellie Phillips, of Megadore, near Akron, Ohio, a short time ago.

"For some years past I suffered so from a badly disordered stomach that my life was just one misery after another. I had to be careful about every mouthful I ate, for whenever I took anything in the way of solid food it was like a dead weight in my stomach and I suffered such pains it was perfect agony. Often I felt like I just couldn't live through them.

"Most of the time I was forced to live on toast and milk. I had spells of dizziness, when black spots would swim before my eyes, and at times I could hardly see. I slept so poorly I dreaded to go to bed, for I knew it meant hours of restlessness before I got to sleep.

"I was taking medicine all the time, but kept getting worse, and don't believe I could have stood these attacks any longer.

"Well, since I have at last found the right medicine for my troubles, I just know I am the happiest woman in town. Just a few bottles of Tanlac have put me in shape to where I can eat whatever I want and never feel a touch of indigestion.

"Those sharp pains in my stomach and the dizziness and sleeplessness have all stopped bothering me. I have gained several pounds in weight, have a healthy color and feel years younger. In the mornings I feel so strong and well I am impatient to get about my housework.

"My only regret is that I didn't get Tanlac a great deal sooner, for it would have saved my husband a lot of money, and me a world of suffering. It is certainly for me to recommend this medicine." Tanlac is sold in Lexington by Hayes & McCarthy.—Adv.

Irregularities In Passports Caused Detention of Youssef and Rahaiim Joseph By Officials In Paris, France

Irregularities in passports carried by Youssef, 15, and Rahaiim, 11, the two children of K. Joseph, Lexington merchant, believed kidnaped in Paris, France, while on their way from Syria to the United States, caused their detention by authorities in Paris. Mr. Joseph was advised yesterday by Dr. Theodore A. Christen, consul of the French Republic at Cincinnati.

The children will be permitted to resume their journey to the United States within a few days.

Mrs. Joseph, who has not seen her children in 15 years, received the news yesterday with tears in her eyes. For weeks the fate of her children has been unknown. After long years in America, cut off from Youssef and Rahaiim by the great war, she was living for the moment when she would see them again when the news came from Paris that sent fear to her heart and caused Mr. Joseph to enlist the aid of the U. S. State Department in the search for his children. Now she is happy again.

The French consul was informed of the action of the Paris authorities yesterday by cable and immediately communicated with Mr. Joseph, who went to Cincinnati several days ago for a conference in regard to the children.

Mr. Joseph emigrated to America from his native home in Syria 17 years ago. Mrs. Joseph followed four years later and the couple established themselves in Lexington, which has been their home since. The children were left with their grandparents. The grandparents died in 1914 and the two children were to have come to America, but were prevented from doing so by the world war.

When the great influenza plague struck down thousands in Syria, the Joseph children became ill and for months the parents were in ignorance of their condition.

If nothing happens to deter the children again, the Joseph family will have a happy reunion in Lexington in September.

SWIFT CHAMP SERIOUSLY ILL OF DIABETES IN PARIS

Traffic Stopped in Block Near Editor's Home

[Special to The Herald]

PARIS, Ky., Aug. 1.—Showers that visited practically every section of the county Saturday night and Sunday morning gave farmers an optimistic frame of mind. Corn, grass and tobacco were greatly benefitted. Reports coming to Paris indicate good rains fell in Nicholas, Robertson, Fleming and Bath counties. More rain is needed to insure the maturity of the corn crop.

Editor Swift Champ, of the Bourbon News, is seriously ill at his home on Pleasant street. Mr. Champ has not been well for some time. After an attack of diabetes ten days ago he went to West Baden Springs for recuperation.

He arrived home Saturday and is now under care of physicians and nurses. He was too sick to be moved to the hospital and the block on which his home is located was closed to traffic Sunday by order of Mayor E. B. January.

'HIGHJACKERS' RELIEVE OIL MAN OF WATCH AND MONEY

A. A. Gross Victim of Holdup Near Beattyville

A. A. Gross, assistant to the general manager of the Clark Petroleum Company, was held up and robbed late Saturday at White Ash, two miles beyond Beattyville. Gross was relieved of his wrist watch, fountain pen, search light, some valuable papers and $30 in cash, according to reports received in Lexington Sunday.

The oil man had been inspecting leases in the vicinity of Beattyville Saturday and after finishing his work continued on to Beattyville on a freight train in order to make connections with a train for Lexington. The freight did not stop at Beattyville, but took Gross and several companions on to White Ash. Here he was engaged in conversation by four men. Two of the men produced pistols after talking to Gross for several minutes. He was ordered to hold up his hands and his assailants took his valuables.

Gross described the men as being dressed like workingmen and believes they are employed near Beattyville. He stated that two of the robbers were not over 19 years old. Police authorities at Ravenna were notified but no trace of the men was found.

Gross lives in Portland, Maine.

AUSTRIAN CAPTAIN ASKS PERMIT TO VISIT TROTS

Isadore Schlessinger Called Home by Balkan Troubles

Captain Isadore Schlessinger, Austrian army, has asked the State Department at Washington to grant him permission to attend the Lexington Trots, in October, the department has advised Edward A. Tipton, president of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association. In his application for permission Captain Schlessinger gave Mr. Tipton as a reference.

"I have requested the State Department to grant the required permission," Mr. Tipton said yesterday. A permit to visit America is required because the United States is still in a state of war with Austria.

Captain Schlessinger is a well-known trotting horse dealer and exponent and came to Lexington a number of times before the war for the trots. He is well known among the local trot fraternity.

He was in Lexington attending the trots when the Balkan troubles arose previous to the world war and was called home by Austrian military authorities.

Mark Collis officiating, followed by burial in the family lot in the cemetery. The pallbearers will be Leroy Saltee, Lawson Webster, Quigley Webster, Leroy Herbert, Walter Fresh and Raymond Rose.

DENTIST TOOK OWN LIFE

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Dr. Jose Arenas, wealthy South American dentist who was found dead with three bullet wounds in his body in his West Side apartment Saturday night, committed suicide, the medical examiner reported after an autopsy today. Arenas ended his life after an unsuccessful attempt to kill Ruth Jackson, a chorus girl, and Ignacio Marti, her companion.

Marti and Miss Jackson told the police they called on the dentist to get some clothes the girl had left in his apartment, when the shooting occurred. Jealousy is believed to have been the motive.

5,000 ATTEND WILMORE MEET CLOSING EXERCISES

Successful Interdenominational Conference Brought to End

[Special to The Herald]

WILMORE, Ky., Aug. 1.—A record crowd of more than 5,000 attended the closing exercises of the Wilmore Interdenominational Bible conference today. Dr. Henry W. Smith, of California, conducted the morning service and Dr. Henry W. Bromley, who was in charge of the conference, the evening service.

Dr. Bromley was congratulated by the church leaders present for his excellent management of the conference. He was unanimously elected chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements for next summer's conference here, for which plans are already under way.

It is estimated that more than 20,000 persons attended one or more of the meetings during the conference, one of the most successful ever held in the United States.

A total of approximately $10,000 was raised to defray the expenses of the meeting and the conference closed with its financial affairs in excellent condition, it was announced.
